RESIDENCE LIFE

EXPLORE • DISCOVER • EXPERIENCE

Dear Hall Director Candidate,

North Dakota State University Residence Life provides an experience for students that enhances their education and involvement in the university community and beyond. I encourage you to considering being a part of this experience that promotes student success. You will have the opportunity to provide leadership and management to our students through supervision of student staff, advising hall government, overseeing operations of a residence hall, facilitating residential curriculum, serving on committees, and assisting with summer camps and conferences.

In an effort to create a vibrant and healthy place to live and learn, NDSU Residence Life is committed to creating an inclusive community for all residents in our residence halls. We serve students through a framework our hall directors developed called S.A.F.E. (sense of belonging, affirmed and valued, freedom to be, and education and growth). As global citizens, we have the responsibility to take action towards positively impacting self, others, and the world.

North Dakota State University is a student-focused, land-grant, research university. NDSU strives for excellence in education, research, and the student experience. NDSU is located in Fargo, the state's largest city. Along with its sister city, Moorhead, Minnesota, directly across the Red River, Fargo forms a large metropolitan area that has the feel of a small town. There is always something to do in Fargo, from street fairs and concerts to bike trails and shopping.

I hope this information guide provides more detailed information about the Hall Director position, the Residence Life Experience, NDSU, and the Fargo-Moorhead community to help you realize that it's a great time to be a Hall Director at NDSU.

Please contact me with questions. I look forward to sharing more about the Hall Director position, NDSU, and Fargo with you. Go Bison!

Sincerely,

Brooks Hetle

Brooks Hetle (he/him/his)

Associate Director of Residence Life

The NDSU Department of Residence Life has people on its team from states across the country including Illinois, Michigan, Washington, Florida, Wisconsin, Kansas, North Carolina, North Dakota, Alabama, Wyoming, and New York.

Hall Director Experience

Hall Directors are the primary contact for the students living in their residence hall and serve as department and university liaisons. Customer service, teamwork and comprehensive administrative skills are necessary to be a successful Hall Director. Candidates need to have a strong work ethic, be professional, embrace positive change and be eager to spend time with students. Our Hall Directors also provide a welcoming environment where students from diverse backgrounds live and learn alongside one another .

Hall Director Main Responsibilities

Hall Directors are present and active in the halls, not only to support and develop students and staff, but to educate and enhance learning.

- Inclusive leadership and management
- Supervision
- Community development
- Advising
- Student conduct
- Facilities management
- Hall administrative duties
- Student support
- Committee responsibilities

RA EXPERIENCE

Building a team is not only an essential responsibility but can have a meaningful impact on students' lives both during college and beyond. Here is what some of our RA's had to say:

"I love being able to directly impact a student's life by creating a safe, respectful, and family-oriented home away from home."

"The professional and personal relationships I've built are irreplaceable."

"It's been great to gain a wide range of soft skills such as communication and create a safe and inclusive community amongst residents."

Paul Frost CATER HALL DIRECTOR

Hometown: Concordia, Kansas

“The Hall Director role allows me to get to know our students, learn their story, and discover what brought them to NDSU. I like connecting with them as they transition to life at NDSU. I also love working with student leaders as they help create a positive experience for all students at NDSU.”

Additional Responsibilities

Each Hall Director can enhance their experience at NDSU based on individual preferences. Here are a few examples:

- Develop curriculum
- Advise student organizations
- Teach conduct and alcohol education
- Work toward diversity goals
- Recruit Hall Directors
- Marketing
- Supervise student staff including training and recruitment

Interview Process

NDSU supports travel expenses for on-campus interviews incurred by Hall Director candidates. Unless a Hall Director candidate is offered a position and declines it, all candidates invited to on-campus interviews will be reimbursed for their travel expenses.

Benefits

- Apartments are wired for Internet access, air-conditioned and are partially furnished with living room, kitchen and bedroom furniture.
- Hall Director offices are separate from their apartments.
- Professional development funding is available for conferences and training.
- Staff members qualify for a tuition waiver up to three classes per calendar year. Spouses and children receive a 50 percent reduction in tuition.
- NDSU provides a benefits package with TIAA-CREF retirement options, life insurance and fully paid health insurance premiums for either an individual or family plan. Health insurance becomes effective the first of the month following the first day of employment. Dental and vision insurance can be purchased at additional cost.
- Hall Directors receive up to 500 block meals during dining center operation.
- Staff members earn one vacation day and one sick day per month, plus 10 paid holidays per year.
- Office phones with voicemail are provided.
- Partner policy allows for partners to live together.
- Pets are limited to a domesticated dog or cat and/or fish as long as requirements have been met.

INTERNSHIP COORDINATOR CHRISTOPHER NEWPORT UNIVERSITY, NEWPORT NEWS, VIRGINIA

NDSU hall director 2019-2022

“Serving as a Hall Director at NDSU provided me with countless opportunities to grow professionally as a student affairs practitioner. When I started as a Hall Director, I knew that I wanted to seize any opportunity that I could to learn more about how to serve students well. My day-to-day HD tasks along with Residence Life committee and collateral assignments helped me achieve this goal. I worked heavily with our Residential Life Experience, co-facilitated our Diversity Initiative Leaders program, oversaw summer conference staff members, and served as the chairperson for the Hall Director Search Committee. Additionally, NDSU Residence Life supported me as I became a Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach. When I reflect on my time at NDSU, I am forever grateful for all that I learned and for the staff members who encouraged me along the way.”

Shiloh Susag

GRANT CONTRACT OFFICER NORTH DAKOTA STATE UNIVERSITY

NDSU hall director 2017-2022

“As a Hall Director I always cherished the opportunities to support my students whether they were staff, advisees, or residents. I was trusted to build relationships that mattered. In my new role, my ability to communicate, problem solve, and build relationships has been valued greatly by my peers who simply didn’t have experience building relationships or providing the same level of customer service that I was used to. Beyond that, I really appreciated that as an HD at NDSU, I was allowed to grow professionally by pursuing my own interests. I sought out Staff Senate and served on the Executive Board which really broadened my understanding of campus leadership and built meaningful relationships across the university that helped prepare me to transition into a new role where I work with many faculty, staff, and administrators.”

ABOUT NDSU

WE VALUE THE DIVERSE PERSPECTIVES OF OUR STUDENTS AND STRIVE TO ENSURE A SENSE OF BELONGING AND RESPECT THAT SUPPORTS THE SUCCESS OF EACH PERSON.

SIZE

More than 12,000 students from 49 states and 74 countries make NDSU large enough for a diverse range of people and perspectives, but still small enough to be personal.

MAJORS

With 100 majors and a 16:1 student-to-faculty ratio, NDSU offers challenging studies in a supportive face-to-face learning environment.

SUPPORTIVE FACULTY

Student success is important to our faculty, who want them to graduate on time and be competitive in the job market.

HIGH STANDARDS

NDSU is fully accredited by the Higher Learning Commission, and many individual programs have specialized accreditation.

ELITE RANKING

NDSU is listed in the top 100 research universities in the United States for research and development in agricultural sciences, psychology, and social sciences, based on reported research expenditures.

NEW EXPERIENCES

Nearly 300 student organizations provide opportunities outside the classroom, and our successful Division I athletic teams make college life fun.

ABOUT RESIDENCE LIFE

NDSU Residence Life provides more than a bed, we provide a place to grow, learn, connect, explore and make an impact. We empower students to create the experience they want with opportunities to lead, learn and grow.

MISSION

The Department of Residence Life supports students by providing a vibrant, healthy place to live and learn.

EXPERIENCE

Residence Life strives to create a community of learning where our students can live and grow as neighbors now and in the future. In order to guide our residents to become global citizens and quality neighbors in their community, we focus on following four learning goals:

- Creating connections
- Exploring identity
- Developing communities
- Making educated decisions

OUR COMMITMENT

As a department within a land grant institution we recognize the historical experience of marginalized students and are actively working to dismantle those inequities to create a better future. We are committed to the following:

S.A.F.E. Sense of Belonging

All students deserve to feel belonging while living on campus.

Affirmed & Valued

All students need to be affirmed in who they are.

Freedom to Be

All students deserve a place where they can be authentically themselves.

Education & Growth

We are dedicated to ongoing education.

NDSU ATHLETICS

NDSU ATHLETICS RANKS AMONG THE OVERALL BEST NCAA DIVISION I PROGRAMS IN THE NATION, GIVING BISON FANS LOTS TO CHEER ABOUT.

A WINNING TRADITION

NDSU annually ranks in the top third of the national Directors' Cup Standings — a measure of success across all sports — and the Bison have combined to win 28 national championships in six sports including the football team's 17th national title in 2021. NDSU men's basketball earned its fifth berth in NCAA March Madness in 2020, and women's track and field in 2021 ran its conference championship winning streak to a 27-straight indoor and outdoor titles combined. Bison softball has made 10 NCAA tournament appearances in 12 years, and Payton Otterdahl recently became the first NDSU Division I national champion with men's indoor titles in the shot put and weight throw before qualifying for the 2021 Tokyo Olympics.

Fargo/Moorhead

The university is located in Fargo, a thriving regional hub on the edge of the Great Plains and Minnesota lake country. Fargo, its sister city, Moorhead, Minnesota, and surrounding communities have a population of approximately 220,000. The Fargo-Moorhead community features three outstanding institutions of higher education: NDSU, Concordia College and Minnesota State University Moorhead, which contribute to an exciting list of things to do. The area combines big-city amenities – museums, arenas and fine arts events – with small-town convenience, safety and friendliness.

Hall Director's Fargo Recommendations

- Pounds - Awesome place to grab a bite, a drink and hangout and play some games.
- Zanbros - Offers a great selection of books, home decor, jewelry, and unique gifts.
- Red River Market - Farmers market located in downtown Fargo.
- Drekker Brewery - Funky brews and amazing atmosphere.
- Island Park - Gorgeous park anytime of year, near downtown.
- Shopping - From small boutiques to your favorite chain stores.
